Toby Brazier Coaching presents Corporate Madness!

Description:

Your go to sport activity session for corporate organisations and businesses looking to engage their staff in physical activity!

Look no further than our 'Corporate Madness' Badminton activity session. We want to turn the common "I haven't played since school" statement around.

This mini session includes a mixture of enjoyable badminton related games, activities and competitions, all while being delivered by a fully qualified Badminton England coach.

Corporate Madness sessions are perfect for the following...

- Staff development days
- Team building events
- Social interactions
- Getting people up and active
- Increasing positivity in the workplace
- Increasing productivity in the workplace

If you're wanting to try something different for your next staff bonding event, why not make it fun with some badminton antics? All equipment is supplied, and sessions can be delivered in reasonable unusual environments or outdoors.

To book a Corporate Madness session, please get in contact via tobybraziercoaching@gmail.com.
